TECHNOLOGY FEATURES

BASIS Update Service (BUS)

Provides Web Service distribution of incremental update patches between released versions of your applications to your clients.

Security

Security features that businesses require include built-in audit logging and a role-based security structure to address Sarbanes-Oxley requirements. The versatile security structure allows you to establish user roles giving permissions or restrictions and then assigning those roles to the users in your company.

Easy-to-use menu

Menu organized for ease of use with a consistent format making it easy to find the task you need even when moving from module to module. Common daily processing tasks are located at the top of the menu and always display expanded to eliminate clicking and searching. Add frequently run tasks to your Favorites list creating a shortcut and reducing processing steps.

Operating system independence

Operating system independence means that AddonSoftware does not dictate your operating system or prevent you from changing your system or any part of it at a later date. Live in whatever world you choose.

Advanced data search

Access, sort, and search using Espresso Search to quickly drill down into your data.

Easy customization

Easy customization because no one knows your business software needs better than you! Tailoring your business software solution to match your workflow and industry practice is critical and AddonSoftware includes a powerful and efficient customization tool at no additional cost.

Browser user interface

Browser user interface allows access to AddonSoftware from anywhere using most any browser including your iPhone. No application modifications or changes are necessary!

Live backup

Live backup capabilities means no down time. Create a live backup of your data while your system is in use - critical in 24/7 business environments.

Data import utility

Data import utility template to assist in your import requirements.

Report writing tool

Report writing tool is included to deliver fast query performance even with non-normalized data. Create and add new reports to the already extensive menu of built-in reports. There is no need to buy expensive third party applications for the reporting and analysis you require though you can easily integrate commercial reporting tools.

View, fax, e-mail

View, fax, e-mail, and print reports and documents created in multiple output formats. Use the HTML and PDF settings to facilitate document and report sharing and storage or use the direct connection to MS Excel for graphical business analysis.

Multi-language

Multi-language configurability from a single code source addresses the language preferences of your users.

Deploy across the internet

Deploy across the Internet without paying for costly third party products with our built-in Jetty Web Server.

Easy integration

Easily integrates new vertical modules allowing incremental modernization.

Report archiving

Report archiving quickly recalls any previously defined generated report or document.

Context-sensitive Help

Context-sensitive Help is just a click away. Selecting [F1] or right-clicking an item opens the specific help section for that task.
